

Further information and application guidance

The MoDiP Residency is an open call for practitioners to work with the Museum of Design in Plastics. The Museum has a comprehensive website which includes details of its exhibition programme, documentation and images of around 11,000 objects, and other resources relating to plastics and design www.modip.ac.uk

The bursary is expected to cover time, travel, accommodation, and subsistence costs to a maximum of £7,000.

Additional funding is available to cover the production of outputs from the project such as costs for making a film/ design of written outputs for publication.

Deadline for applications

22 April 2022

Project dates

The project can commence at any time but must be delivered by 30 September 2022.

The residency can be undertaken on a full or part-time basis.

Attendance

We expect the residency to involve some face-to-face contact with museum staff and include research visits to MoDiP.

Application

Applications for the bursary should be submitted as an expression of interest to the museum via email on modip@aub.ac.uk. This should be no more than one side of A4 and include the following:

- Project outline
- Aims and objectives
- Methods/methodology
- Indicative budget
- Timeframe

Selection

Shortlisting will take place in late April with interviews scheduled to take place in early May.

The successful applicant will be required to develop a more formal proposal prior to the project commencing.
